MALABAR, FLORIDA

"Forest Bathing" - A Healthy Idea

- 1. It's good for your heart. Time spent outdoors in a forest lowers blood pressure and the stress hormones cortisol and adrenaline.
- 2. It soothes your brain. Being in greenery decreases anxiety, depression, anger and fatigue for adults. Research shows that kids with ADHD who spend time in natural outdoor environments have a reduction in symptoms.
- 3. It speeds recovery. People in the hospital given views of greenery, especially trees, after surgery, had shorter stays, took fewer painkillers, and had fewer complications than those who stared out at a blank wall.
- 4. It increases immunity. When you inhale fresh air in a forest, you breathe in plant chemicals that have antibacterial and antifungal qualities and increase the immune system's disease fighting abilities.

TRAILS AND GREENWAYS COMMITTEE (T&GC) UNOFFICIAL MISSION

Plan, enhance, and maintain the trails and greenways of the Town of Malabar to assure the sustainability of our environmentally protected lands so that current and future generations are encouraged to get outside to safely enjoy nature. Coordinate these efforts by networking with neighboring communities so that the resulting trail system flows from one to another serving all.

Officially located at 1100 Corey Road, Malabar, FL 32950, it is super easy to find the Cameron Preserve. Just head to south Brevard County and find Malabar Road. If you are traveling from I-95, take to exit 173. From Malabar Road at I-95, head east for 2.7 miles and then turn left on Corey Road. If traveling south from Palm Bay or North from Barefoot Bay, from Malabar Road at US Hwy 1, head east for 1.7 miles and then turn right on Corey Road. Go north on Corey Road for about 0.7 miles, the pavement ceases and you are at the trailhead at the North end of Corey Road, Malabar, FL. You will see a fence, a sign, and a kiosk. Your Cameron Preserve adventure is about to begin.

Request for Pathways Proposals Posted October 15, 2015

Space Coast TPO Pathways Project Kick Off February, 2016 Introduction

The Pathways Project is the development of an Interactive Guide to Brevard's trails, waterways, sidewalks, bike lanes and unique outdoor adventures.

This application solicits proposals to identify pathways and related events for public participation in February 2016. The goal of the Pathways Project Kick Off is to showcase the diversity of outdoor activities available to residents and visitor's in all geographic areas of the Space Coast. Selected pathways will also be included in the Interactive Guide. Proposals may include self-guided pathways, guided pathways, or pathway events. Proposed pathway projects may be free, not-for-profit, or for profit.

In summary, please identify a pathway in your community that could be highlighted during the month of February and included in the Interactive Guide later in the year. Please use the application below to complete your pathway proposal.

A. Introduction:

Malabar invites visitors to enjoy our Cameron Preserve. Natural trails of the 100 acres are clearly marked for hikers, mountain bikers, and equestrians, and include sunny and shaded, deep Florida wooded trails. Kiosks are strategically located with smartphone QR codes linked to maps & information.

The full name of the Cameron Preserve is actually the Richard E. Cameron, Sr. & Volunteers Wilderness Preserve. Richard rounded up many locals who also loved the local wilderness areas and launched an effort of preservation, trail and trailhead improvements that now continues through Malabar's T&GC. We are always working to make the trail system of Malabar more enjoyable and sustainable. For more information about volunteering with the T&GC, please contact Cindi Kelly, Deputy Town Clerk, Town of Malabar, at: ckelley@townofmalabar.org or (321) 727-7764 x11.

B. The Basics:

The trails of Cameron Preserve were designed for hikers, mountain bikers and equestrian users. There is a variety of topography to see, including wooded areas and open Florida scrub. Elevation changes are minor; although the trail segments do pass by some interesting wetland areas. A part of the south Brevard County greenway, contiguous areas of forest and scrub, the Cameron Preserve offers much in biodiversity of plant and animal life. The Cameron Preserve is in the shape of a rectangle, with its southern border crossing the north end of Corey Road, in Malabar, It is mostly bordered on the north along the boundary canal by the Al Tuttle Trail, a paved trail that runs from Port Malabar Blvd., in Palm Bay, to the Sand Hill Trailhead, at 1400 Marie Street, in Malabar. If Corey Road went through the Cameron Preserve, two thirds of the preserve would be to the west and one third to the east. The Cameron Preserve is maintained by Town of Malabar, connects to and lies between two EEL Program (Environmentally Endangered Lands Program) maintained properties to the east and west: the Malabar Scrub Sanctuary East & Malabar Scrub Sanctuary West. Additionally, the northwestern corner of the Cameron Preserve is separated from trails of the Turkey Creek Sanctuary only by Briar Creek Boulevard - at the point where City of Palm Bay and Town of Malabar meet. Accordingly, the Cameron Preserve provides an idea of trail conditions of these neighboring trail systems without some of the challenge factor and/or distances associated with those areas. The Trails and Greenways Committee of Town of Malabar works closely with the EEL Program Managers so that the connections of trails through these different protected lands are well marked and flow nicely.

C. Added Bonus:

To optimize safety, signage of the (main) yellow trail was recently adjusted to recognize the new single track approach. Yellow trail markers are now designated with arrows that indicate the recommended direction of travel for hikers and mountain bikers. The northern east-west segments of the trail have arrows and the letter "W" to have hikers and mountain bikers travel west. The southern east-west segments of the trail have arrows and the letter "E" to have hikers and mountain bikers travel east. Equestrian users are asked to travel in the opposite direction so that any trail encounters between horses and people are face to face. We have found that horses are much less likely to be startled when they sense that a person is approaching from in front of them. Surprising a horse from behind could be dangerous for all.

An additional bonus of the trails in the Cameron Preserve is especially nice for new mountain bikers. Rather than abandon old "sugar sand" trail sections originally cut by ATVs, where only the toughest mountain bikers could push on through, Malabar's Trails and Greenways Committee (T&GC) has implemented recycled jure-based trail stabilizer (RJTS). This local trail-proven trick involved staking down inverted carpet to stabilize such sections. Without these stabilization efforts, the deep sand would continue to cause trail users to oscillate back and forth, motivating them to seek more solid riding/walking locations and thus distorting the trail width. Native grass seed has been added along the stabilization areas to expedite revegetation and the sections are quickly experiencing new plant life along the trail. Stabilizing the sugar sand areas with RJTS has proven to be a way to recycle and it also has provided an economical way to the restore missing trail segments that now complete the single track Yellow Trail.

One more bonus is that, following your trek through the Cameron Preserve, you can replenish all those calories that you just burned by stopping by Malabar Mo's, Malabar's local bar and grill, located just west of US Hwy 1 at the east end of Malabar Road. Whether done by foot, pedal, or stirrup, if you mention to your server that you just "Cruised the Cameron" your party is sure to get just the right appetizer to help fix that calorie deficit.

D. Challenge Factor:

Easy to moderate. While the elevation varies little, various trail surfaces are encountered. Conditions vary from dry to wet, from shaded to open, from smooth sand to numerous roots crossing the trail. Kiosks at key points along the trail will help you to identify where you are, what you will see, and conditions to expect. The area is part of a large coastal greenway system and therefore home to wildlife you may not be accustomed to seeing. Be aware that diamond back rattlesnakes call the area home, are occasionally encountered, and therefore have the right of way on the trails. Signage is strong with some shortcuts to other trails and neighboring preserve areas clearly marked. Cameron is a great place to start exploring local trails and a great place to return to if your trail time is limited and you just want to feel far from a city.

E. Getting There

Officially located at 1100 Corey Road, Malabar, FL 32950, it is super easy to find the Cameron Preserve. Just head to south Brevard County and find Malabar Road. If you are traveling from I-95, take to exit 173. From Malabar Road at I-95, head east for 2.7 miles and then turn left on Corey Road. If traveling south from Palm Bay or North from Barefoot Bay, from Malabar Road at US Hwy 1, head east for 1.7 miles and then turn right on Corey Road. Go north on Corey Road for about 0.7 miles, the pavement ceases and you are at the trailhead at the North end of Corey Road, Malabar, FL. You will see a fence, a sign, and a kiosk. Your Cameron Preserve adventure is about to begin.

F. Know Before You Go

Users are encouraged to orient themselves to the large map at the kiosk located at the trailhead. Since cell tower strength is very weak at some locations along the trail it is recommended that, prior to venturing deep into the preserve, smartphone users download local segment maps via kiosk QR codes. The trail offers no restrooms, potable water, or horse paddocks. The nearest public restroom (without potable water & without horse paddocks) is at Malabar Community Park, located to the east of Corey Road, at 1840 Malabar Rd., Malabar, FL 32950. The nearest public restroom (with potable water and with horse paddocks) is at the Sand Hill Trailhead, located to the east of Corey Road, at 1400 Marie Street, Malabar, FL 32950 (go about 1 mile east on Malabar Rd. then turn left onto Marie Street, trailhead is less than a block off Malabar Rd.).

G. Added Details

As with all trail exploration, it is recommended that you let someone NOT venturing with you know of your planned route, time of departure, and anticipated time of return. Check the latest local weather forecast before you head out. Even in the winter, dress appropriately for weather extremes and bring along plenty of water. Apply sunscreen before you head out and bring along some bug spray, too. Plan your adventure route so that you return prior to nightfall. Bringing a camera and binoculars are rarely a regret.
